KEEPING A COMMUNITY'S OWN ENTITY in an explosive growth area such as Santa Clara Valley is a difficult proposition. You have to work at it.

The situation isn't helped by overlapping school district, postal district and city boundary lines. It is not unusual for people to be confused as to what school district they are in. Many don't even know in what city they reside.

We have long maintained that community spirit and interest are part of traditional American heritage. People basically want to be involved with their own community. But sometimes it becomes a little complicated when one doesn't know which community to latch onto.

A community newspaper, such as ours, does its best to emphasize the individuality of a community and its importance from the home rule and grass roots level.

A certain amount of apathy on the part of the citizens is expected. But we keep plugging along, hoping that some of our philosophy will eventually rub off.

But there are times when we boil over.

SCATTERED throughout our town are a number of political signs advertising the qualifications of various candidates for city council.

But the candidates are NOT running for the Campbell city council.

They are in the race for San Jose jobs. This burns us to a crisp.

Several weeks ago we called attention to a particular loud sign on Bascom between Fewtrell and McBain.

City officials reported that the candidate had been contacted and had agreed to remove it. But a week later it was still up.

As far as we know, none of the candidates even bothered to obtain a permit to erect their signs.

But, in the first place, we see no reason why candidates for the San Jose city council seats should be allowed to place their signs within the city limits of Campbell.

We know it can be argued that, if the San Jose candidates want to scatter their signs indiscriminately either in or outside the city limits of San Jose, that's their business and their money.

We concede also that the signs are not supposed to attract Campbell votes for the candidates. That would be a little difficult in face of election laws.

And we also must assume (perhaps a little too optimistically) that the candidates should know where the city limits are.

The general idea (to give them the benefit of doubt) is probably to RECOUNTS EXPERIENCES--The Rev. A. D. (Kit) Carson, vicar of St. Lawrence Episcopal Church of Campbell, is interviewed by Grace Hebard, women's editor of The Press, about his trip to Selma, Ala., during the height of the unrest.

Local minister reports on experiences in Selma

BY GRACE HEBARD

A compulsion to "do something" about the treatment of the Negroes in the South, drove the Rev. Alfred D. (Kit) Carson, vicar of St. Lawrence Episcopal Church, 65 Rincon Avenue, to fly tc Selma, Alabama, March 9, and join in the civil rights demonstrations going on there.

In an interview with The Campbell Press, Rev. Carson said he could not "ignore what was going on".

"I was frightened the whole time I was there," he said. The popular Campbell vicar, who has been pastor of the first Episcopal Church established here for a little over a year, emplaned for the South to join Dr. Martin L. King's non-violent demonstrations. In his group was the Rev. James J. Reeb of Boston who died after being attacked by a white gang as he left a Negro restaurant.

Rev. Carson told The Press that Selma has a population of 30,000 citizens, 59 percent of which are colored. He said 250 to 300 Negroes are registered there. He said "apathy" is making a farce of democracy in our country.

"The Negro of today is not the Negro of the Civil War," Carson stated. He pointed out the big steps taken by the Negro in all fields of endeavor. "They know they are entitled to their rights, they know they are not inferior, and they demand their rights," he said.

He described Alabama's law enforcement officers as "anxious to attack" but indicated it was difficult to differentiate between the "career officers and the recruited deputies."

"Man's inhumanity to man is beyond comprehension," he said. "It's hypocritical to outlaw the Communist Party in this country and on the other hand to permit the Klu Klux Klan to exist," Reverend Carson told The Press.

One of the most heartening events of the demonstration in Selma, he said, was to be joined by a force of 50 Catholic priests and eight nuns from St. Louis. He feels that the issue can be definitely helped by the participation of the church in these demonstrations.

He quoted a statement by a prominent civil rights spokesman "The Negro is like a little child that has been hit by a car and must be rushed to the hospital. We may have to break some laws getting there."

"Yesterday, today and tomorrow' will be theme for 1965 celebration

"Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow" will be the theme of the 73rd annual Campbell Old Settlers' Celebration, it was announced this week by Co-Ordinator Robert Culp. The announcement followed a general meeting of the committee chairmen for the May 13-16 citywide celebration which is sponsored by the Campbell Chamber of Commerce.

Reports were heard from various committee members during the evening, following a brief run-down of the scheduled events by Paul Landwehr, secretary-manager of the local chamber.

Orchard City Grange, as one of the oldest civic organizations, in Campbell, has accepted the invitation to entertain the Old Settlers at the annual luncheon in a joint effort with the chamber. This will be held on Sunday preceding the parade.

Mrs. D. F. Sheffer is handling the luncheon arrangements. The Grange is also participating in the research for the oldest Old Settler and also preparing a list of the old timers who will be

Center loses battle

Eight months and six public hearings from the time the matter was first presented before an official city body. The proposed shopping center at San Tomas Aquino Road and Hacienda did a complete fade-out at the City Council meeting Monday night.

By a 4-1 vote (Councilman Ralph Doetsch dissenting) the counci overruled the Planning Commission and disapproved the plans for the development of the tract under the P-D (planned development) zone of the city. The plans had been submitted by Topaz Builders, Inc.

In the grand finale Monday night, the strongest opposition to the shopping center came from the owners of two other shopping centers in the general area who were represented by attorneys.

Emory Delmas represented the Turturicci family, owners of Another rattler shows up

A snake-in-the-grass

After finding four rattle snakes within one year in or near his back yard, Ray Wiegand, of 180 Harrison, Campbell, has understandably become concerned. So far the snakes have done no harm, but Wiegand doesn't want to press his luck.

He is pictured above with his latest find, a 2 1/2 foot long rattler which Wiegand captured in the grass near his house. As he did with the other rattlers he found in the same general area, Wiegand "donated" his find to West Valley College.

Although Wiegand is quite naturally disturbed by these uninvited visitors, he also points out that snakes have all been found close to the route that youngsters travel on their way to Hamilton School.

Having found four of the reptiles, Wiegand wonders just how many more might be hiding out. He feels that parents of the school children should be warned about the potential danger that lurks in the grass.

Spring clean-up week to begin on March 27

"For a fire-safe home--clean up!"

That is the basic message of SPRING CLEAN-UP which starts in Campbell on Monday, March 29 according to Fire Chief Maxwell.

"CLEAN-UP makes good sense for a lot of reasons but most important of all is that it helps make your life and the lives of your family safer from fire," the chief adds.

Rubbish is one of the top four causes of building fires, Maxwell points out. So by cleaning up your homes as well as places of business you can stop many dangerous killing fires.

The goal of "SPRING CLEAN-UP" is to make every home in Campbell safe from fire.

Highlights of the week, Fire Chief Maxwell reports, will include a special trash pickup on Tuesday, April 6. This allows eight days tc prepare for disposal for pickup.

All trash is to be placed at the curb line for pickup and must be in containers or bundled together. No sofas, refrigerators, etc., will be accepted. Such articles may be taken to the Los Gatos Scavenger Co. dump grounds.

"YESTERDAY, TODAY AND TOMORROW"---Symbolizing the Campbell 73rd annual Old Settlers Celebration theme, Mrs. Eugene Kelley poses in the 1880 phaeton formerly owned by the Huey Leigh family of Campbell, while Robert M. Culp, co-ordinator of the May 13-16 celebration and principal of the Campbell High School carries out the today keynotes. In his official cap and gown, Dr. Wallace Hall, president of the West Valley College, will be the guiding influence of tomorrow's leaders, represented by four year old David Roush, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Roush, 1723 Lorenzen Drive, San Jose.

Street improvements

At a recent City Council meeting, Ted Regas, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce street relations committee, submitted recommendations for local highway and street improvements listed in order of priority.

Not all the improvements listed pertain to the city administration but the report attempted to show where work was needed on the local scene whether under city, county or state control.

Although we do not necessarily agree with the priority or the importance of some of the projects that were recommended by the Chamber of Commerce, the report serves an extremely useful purpose in the establishing of a guide-line for the area.

In addition, it should prove valuable to the city administration in obtaining the viewpoints of civic leaders.

Because the report clearly shows that there is a definite need for a continuous street improvement program, we are publishing the recommendations of the Chamber of Commerce:

GROUP A--Projects which require URGENT attention and completion in 1965.

1. OFF STREET PARKING lots for downtown Campbell Avenue, to be acquired by City of Campbell or through the formation of a parking district. PLACE sufficient directional signs to such lots.
2. RESURFACE Campbell Avenue from Railroad tracks to Winchester Boulevard.
3. ESTABLISH Restricted Parking Limits on Campbell Avenue as follows.
   NO PARKING BETWEEN
   7:00 to 9:00 A. M.
   4:00 to 6:00 P. M.
   MONDAY THRU FRIDAY
   Saturdays & Sundays
   Excluded
4. Request Southern Pacific Railroad to change its car switching location from CAMPBELL Avenue to Kennedy Street. This operation is extremely dangerous and creates a very serious traffic problem on CAMPBELL AVENUE, particularly at peak hours.
5. TRAFFIC SIGNALS are needed desperately at:
   - Railway Avenue and Harrison and Campbell Avenue
   - Rincon Avenue and Winchester Blvd.
   - Budd Avenue and Winchester Blvd.
   - San Tomas Aquino Road and Campbell Avenue
   - Convert the signal at Bascom Avenue & Campbell Avenue into a 3-phase operation.
   - Convert signal at Central Avenue & Campbell Avenue into a 3-phase operation.

GROUP B--Projects which require attention and should be started by 1965.

1. Extend and complete Hamilton Avenue - West.
2. FREEWAY and COUNTY DIRECTIONAL SIGNING for City of Campbell needed as follows:
   a. Highway 101 north approach to Freeway 17.
   b. Highway 101 south approach to Freeway 17.
   c. Intersection of The Alameda and Race Streets.
   d. Intersection of Saratoga Avenue and West Campbell Avenue.
   e. Intersection of San Tomas and West Campbell Avenue.
   f. Intersection of Pollard and Winchester Blvd.
   g. Intersection of Moorpark and Winchester Blvd.
   h. Intersection of Camden Avenue and Bascom Avenue.
   i. Intersection of Meridian Road and Hamilton Avenue.
   j. Route 239 Junipero Serra Freeway.
3. IMPROVE and INSTALL DIRECTIONAL SIGNING within City Limits as to location of Civic Center and Downtown Shopping Area Center.
4. Widen Freeway 17 to six lanes between Moorpark Avenue and Lark Avenue
   a. Improve interchanges at Hamilton, Camden and Lark Avenues.
   b. CONSTRUCT an interchange (on and off ramps) at Campbell Avenue North and South.
5. Complete San Tomas Expressway and allow Grade Crossings and/or Grade Separations at:
   a. Campbell Avenue
   b. Hamilton Avenue
   c. Latimer Avenue
   d. Rincon Avenue
   e. Budd Avenue
   f. Winchester Blvd.

GROUP C--Projects which require attention and should be started by 1970.

1. Widen Campbell Avenue to four lanes between Bascom Avenue and Winchester Blvd.
2. Widen Winchester Blvd. to Los Gatos City Limits, near Pollard Avenue.
3. Widen Winchester Blvd. to San Jose City Limits near Moorpark Avenue.
4. Widen Bascom Avenue from Hamilton Avenue to Camden Avenue.

It is recognized that to obtain a correction of the substandard streets and other improvements so desperately needed in the City of Campbell, a "Street Improvement Bond Issue" along with other civic improvements will be necessary for presentation to the voters in the fiscal year 1965-1966.

the Big Boy Market on Hacienda. In his argument against the new center, Delmas reiterated statements made a number of times during the past years that it was planned to expand the present Big Boy Market into a huge shopping center complex. He maintained there was no economic need for the new shopping center. Delmas also claimed that the city had no legal right to approve the proposed plans because part of the area was outside the city limits. He also maintained that the requirements for P-D zoning had not been met.

Sal Liccardo represented the Smith family owners of the San Tomas shopping center. He argued also that the area did not warrant another shopping center so close to the two that already existed.

Joseph G. Schumb Jr., another San Jose attorney, argued the case for the Topaz builders. He also presented petitions from residents in the area who were in favor of the new shopping center Many of the residents in the area were also present and spoke in favor of the new center.

Councilman Ed Rogers and Bob McElroy, during the discussion period, both maintained that the new shopping center was not needed in that

City Hall briefs

A coin-operated car wash establishment slated for El Caminito and Winchester Blvd. was washed out at the City Council meeting Monday night.

By a unanimous vote the council upheld the decision of the Planning Commission location. Councilman Bill Smeed thought that the plan perhaps should be modified to allow for a buffer next to the residential area while Mayor Charles Rose felt that a complete study of the area was needed before any action was taken on the plans.

Councilman Doetsch, on the other hand, claimed that a shopping center was the only use that could be made of the property in question. But his argument was of no avail.

The plans were denied by a 4-1 vote.

which had denied "S" approval of the car-wash.

William Oltmann, local public accountant and applicant for the car-wash, appeared personally to appeal the commission's ruling. But to no avail.

Members of the council in denying the appeal, indicated that they felt that the car wash could create a traffic problem on the busy street in addition, they cited the ordinance which requires car wash operations to be enclosed. Plans presented showed that the car-wash would be open on two sides.

In another appeal, the Council, however, overrode a Planning Commission denial of a variance for a Shell Oil Co. service station at Sunnyoaks and Winchester.

In other actions, the Council--

--AWARDED the contract for the improvement of Latimer and Esther avenues to I. McCarthy and Spiesman on a low bid of $29,643.40. The engineer's estimate for the job was $32,666.10.

--ADOPTED an ordinance annexing 2 1/2 acres adjacent to the site for the proposed shopping center at Hacienda and San Tomas which the Council in a prior action had disapproved.

--DIRECTED a letter be written to the state and county highway authorities requesting that Casey Road should have access to the freeway after the San Tomas Expressway is constructed. Tentative plans call for the closing of the street.

--ADJOURNED to a special meeting next Monday at 7:30 p.m. with the Planning Commission to discuss specific planning problems in the city. After the joint meeting the council will continue in session to decide other pressing city matters.

catch the San Jose voters going through Campbell.

But we passed that gaudy "SANTORO FOR COUNCIL" sign on Bascom every day on our way to and from our office. It didn't do a thing for us but make us mad.

And we got mighty tired of seeing it.

With our notorious low boiling point, especially as far as such matters are concerned, we sort of bubbled over each time we went by.

And we have a question: What's so darn tough about taking down one of those signs anyway?

But we won't belabor the point. We just burned out another fuse.

RECENTLY Thomas Inglis, the retired admiral who is mayor of that landlocked area known as Monte Sereno, gained more mileage from a publicity point of view when he was asked to speak at San Jose City College on the matter of junior college culture.

You may recall that the mayor (and not always known behind his back, as that "retired sailor") sounded off against West Valley College sponsoring a concert. He made his public blast when he returned his complimentary tickets to the college. He indicated that he felt that the junior college should stick strictly to its knitting which, he suggested, was a mere expansion of the 'three R's'.

Such activities as concerts and the like were too far up the cultural scale for a junior college to undertake.

As we remarked in this column at that time, we felt the retired admiral was 'way off his course. He had lost his compass, one might say.

We haven't changed our mind on that score. However, we must admit we recognize that we have not been altogether fair with the honorable mayor of that cloistered hamlet of Monte Sereno.

We shouldn't expect him to view community activities in the same light as we do. He hasn't been exposed, as we have, to the mundane everyday happenings that are part and parcel of towns of all sizes in America and where cultural activity of any degree is a welcome respite.

During those many years, when the admiral was going up the ladder in his navy blue suit, he fortunately was isolated from the humdrum life of the American hinterland. The government, in picking up the tab for navy service, doesn't require either gobs or admirals to learn about the outside world.

And life in Monte Sereno on a retirement subsidy probably isn't much different.

So, you see, you can't really blame the the mayor of Monte Sereno for having a different viewpoint than we of the hoi polloi.

Students...here's how lighting can lighten your homework.

It's a lot easier to get good grades when you read and write in good light. You learn faster and make fewer mistakes. Here are some lighting tips for you to use at home:

Use lamps that spread light.

1. Two wall or table lamps, one at either end of your desk, with shaded bulbs of at least 150 watts provide the best study lighting. The light will cover the desk top without shadows.

2. If you use a single lamp, it should cast its light downward and upward. The best lamps have a light-diffusing glass bowl and a light-transmitting outer shade.

3. Adjust your chair or the lamp so that the low edge of the lampshade is at eye level.

Have a regular, well-lighted place to study.

4. Study each night in the same place or area. Your own bedroom is probably best because it's quieter. It's also easy to light.

5. Use a level table or flat-top desk. Never face a window into daylight glare or night darkness.

6. A light-colored desk top or blotter will reduce lighting contrasts and eye fatigue. Brighten a dark wall with a light-painted cork bulletin board.

Keep a general light on in the room.

7. Sharp contrasts of dark and light make your eyes work hard. Always keep a ceiling light, wall fixture or 3-way floorlamp lighted in addition to your study lighting.

Some helpful study tips.

8. Reading matter should be propped or tilted about 30° toward the eyes for reading ease.

9. Never read or work in your own shadow.

10. When you use a comfortable, well-lighted place to study, you'll find that your eyes won't tire so easily, and your mind won't wander.

Free lighting booklet.

For more complete information about study lighting and household lighting of all kinds, get a copy of PG&E's free booklet, "SEE YOUR HOME IN A NEW LIGHT." It's filled with lighting advice, decorating ideas, and information about fixtures and wiring.

Biggest household bargain.

Providing dependable gas and electric service at the lowest possible rates is our most important job. Since 1961 there have been 3 major reductions in PG&E rates. In fact, the same amount of PG&E gas and electricity costs less today than 30 years ago. Which means that PG&E service is a bigger bargain than ever.

District science fair takes place Saturday

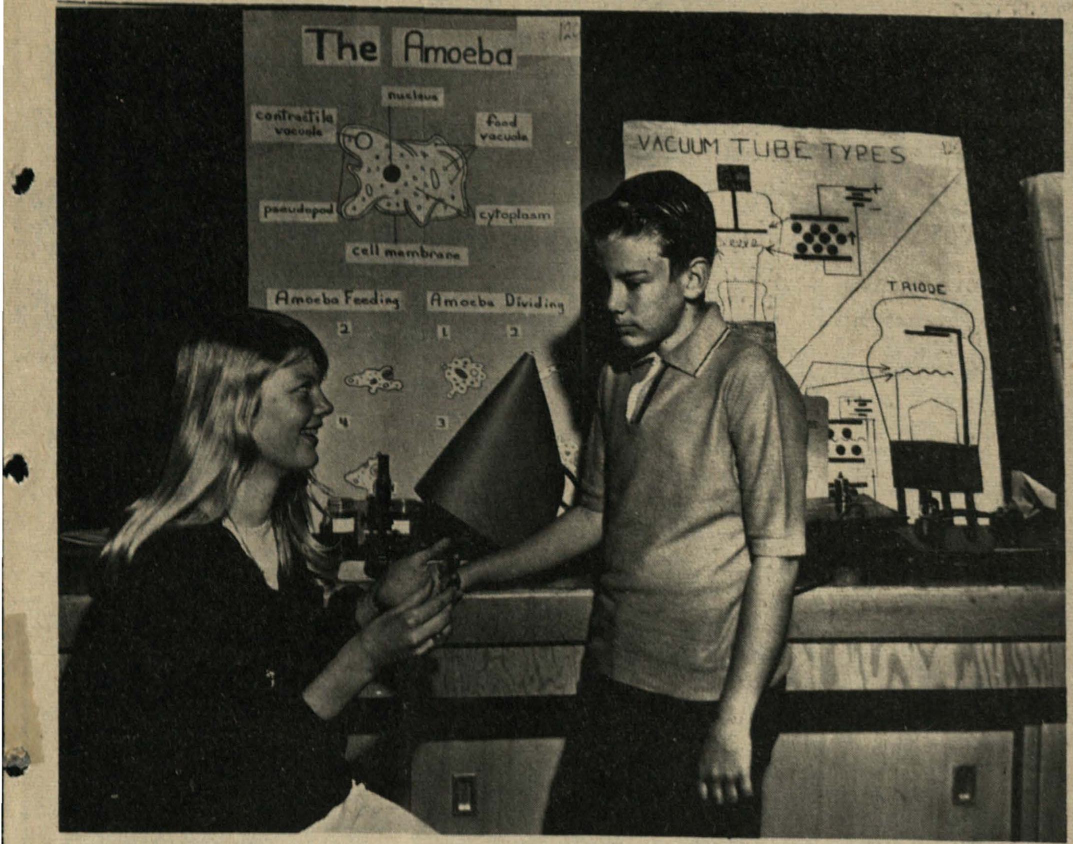
The Eighth Annual Campbell Union School District Science Fair will be held Saturday, March 27 at Monroe School, 1055 South Monroe St., San Jose. It will be open to the public from 10:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Approximately 170 participants, fourth through sixth grade students from 18 schools, will enter their original projects in physical and biological science.

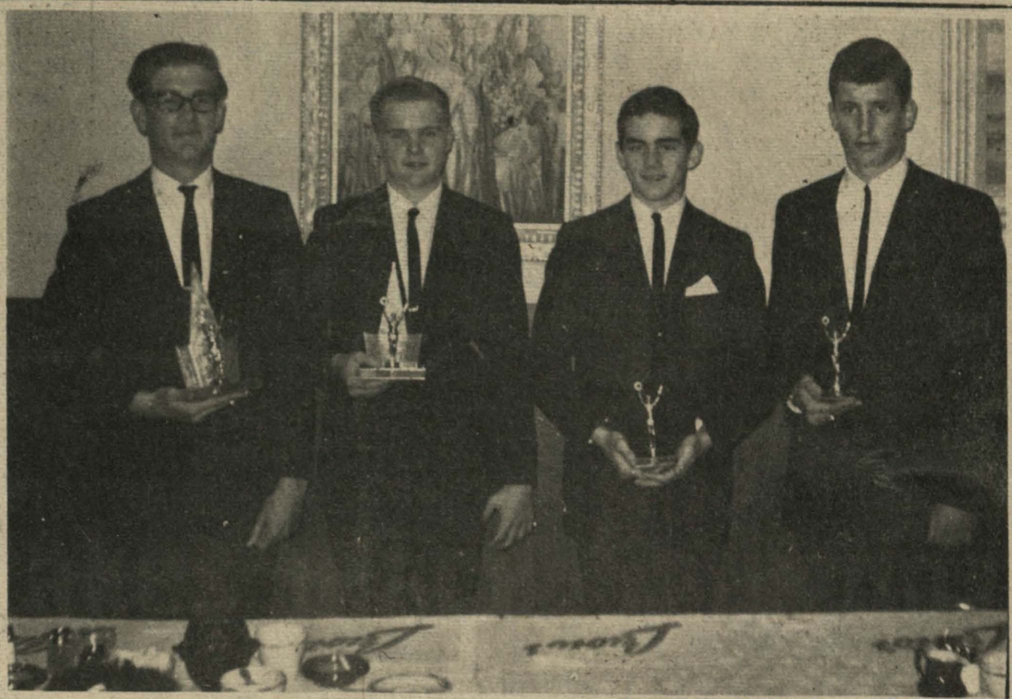
Approximately 25 judges who will evaluate these projects from 9 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. are teachers from surrounding school districts and from Campbell Union High School District, and engineers and scientists from industry.

Most schools in the district hold preliminary science fairs, at which judges select the outstanding projects to send on to the district-wide science fair.

The Campbell Union School District Science Fair began as the Cherry Lane Science Fair and was sponsored for several years by the Cherry Lane Home and School Club. The tradition was so enthusiastically furthered by the other schools that it became district-wide, and eventually had to move to schools with larger multi-purpose rooms.



BUDDING SCIENTISTS–Leslie Crowell entered a project on "The Amoeba" in the Monroe School Science Fair March 20. Leslie, who lives at 728 S. Genevieve Lane, is an eighth grader. So is Curtis Sawyer, whose project is Vacuum Tube Types. Curtis lives at 3018 Van Sansul Ave. Their work is typical of original science research that will be displayed at the Campbell Union School District Science Fair this Saturday, March 27; also to be held at Monroe School.



TOP SPEAKERS--Walt Ritter, of Campbell High, won first place in the recent Campbell Optimist Club annual oratorical contest. Other trophy winners are pictured above, John Brydon, Grindon Leger, Terry Brink and Terry Peluso. Speakers from both Campbell High and Camden High participated.

NUMBER ONE–Walt Ritter, of Campbell High, winner of the Campbell Optimist oratorical contest, will compete in the Optimist zone contest in San Jose on April 20.. The ultimate goal of the nationwide contest is the awarding of four $1,000 college scholarships to the high school speakers.

Todd Hayes, top Don swimmer, again turned in an outstanding individual performance, but it wasn't enough to overcome a great team effort by the Los Gatos Wildcats, as the Dons' swimming team lost to the Cats by a 53-42 margin.

Hayes recorded the fastest time in the WVAL in the 100 yd. butterfly for the week of March 12. He also had the second fastest time in the 200 yd. freestyle. Stan Poytress, a junior, turned in the fastest time in the WVAL in the 100 freestyle, and Rich Jones, a senior and three-year varsity letterman, showed the third-best time in the 200 yd. individual medley.

Del Mar's varsity track team showed their lack of strength in the field events in their loss to Leigh in a triangular meet at Pioneer High School. The final totals showed Leigh 78, Del Mar 48, and Pioneer 35.

Despite the poor team showing, several Dons turned in fine performances. Tom Gardner was one of the few Dons to even place in the meet in field events, as he won the shot put with a toss of 51 feet. Tom Greenley and Wayne Howard came through with victories in the 440 yd. dash and 180 yd. low hurdles respectively.

Junior Tony Condensa pitched beautifully as he went the distance for the Dons, but his teammates couldn't support him in the baseball team's 2-0 loss to Pioneer, at Pioneer on March 16.

The sports schedule for the coming week finds the baseball team hosting Wilcox on March 25, and opening their league season at Camden on March 30. The track team takes on Blackford at Blackford, while the swimmers host the Braves, on March 26.

The annual C.S.F. banquet was held on Wednesday, March 3, to honor the students of Del Mar who have shown scholastic excellence. Awards varied from an assortment of pins, plaques and small gold lamps. The guest speaker for the evening was Mr. Michael Charlsworth, an exchange teacher from England now teaching at Lincoln High School. He presented a very interesting talk on high school life. This humorous speech compared the differences in American and English teaching systems. Following Mr. Charlsworth's speech, the pins were awarded to Honor Society and C.S.F. members. Mr. Miskulin, principal, and Miss Pace, head of C.S.F., awarded plaques to the 24 straight A students and presented gold lamps to the 18 Life C.S.F. members.

Festive egg tree for your Easter holiday

The gayest of all Easter decorations, the Easter egg, can be made a truly unusual ornament to dress up your holiday buffet or mantle.

Instead of the traditional flower centerpiece, Le Page's adhesive products has designed an Easter Egg tree. It's colorful, unusual, and very easy to make. Needed for this centerpiece are: eggs, a few thin graceful branches, some water base paint, thin ribbon, a vase and Le Page's mucilage. Use of the mucilage will give your Easter Eggs a shimmering color, with a high gloss.

An egg shell is much sturdier than you think. Begin by making a hole, about an eighth of an inch in diameter, at each end of egg. A sturdy pin will do the job. Next, blow through one end, making sure that the other end is over a bowl. The contents will come out easily. Rinse egg.

Place mucilage in shallow dish. Into this, stir one, or as many colors as you wish, of the water base paint. Add just enough water to the paint so that it still maintains a good heavy color.

Either dip eggs into mixture or apply with brush. Set aside to dry. When dry, pull ribbon through holes of eggs. At one end tie a bow. Using other end, attach to branch. In addition to eggs, you may use little bows and flowers to decorate your branches.

When the holiday is over, you may store your beautifully decorated eggs for another year. The mucilage will keep the shells from cracking and will retain its high sheen for many a holiday to come.

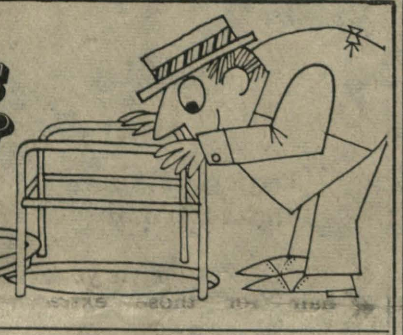
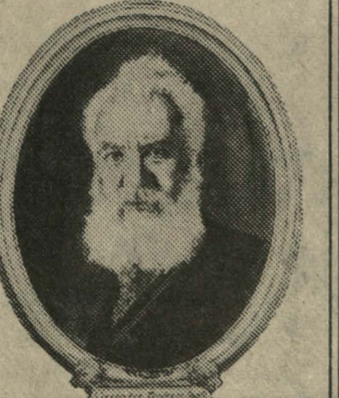
WHAT'S DOING?





Leonardo da Vinci is most noted for his painting, the Mona Lisa. But did you know that he was also an architect and engineer? In fact, he even designed an airplane and a submarine. Another man of many talents was Alexander Graham Bell. For instance, he invented a system of air conditioning and a method of changing salt water to fresh. He even proposed an early version of today's iron lung. But like da Vinci, Bell is most noted for one thing—the invention of the telephone 89 years ago this month. Sure, a lot of changes have been made in telephones since 1876—and you'll see many more in the years ahead. But there'll always be the same good reason for every telephone change: to make your phone service even better than it was before.

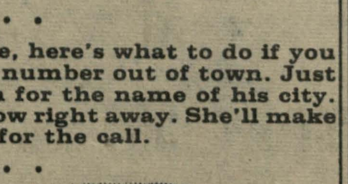
• • •

Children say some pretty cute things. Here's one I think you'll enjoy as much as I did. A 2½-year-old girl wanted to talk long distance with her grandma. So she took her mother by the hand, led her to the phone, put her fingers on the dial and said, "You wind it, and I'll talk." I guess we're never too young to know how much fun it is to keep in touch by long distance.

• • •

Speaking of long distance, here's what to do if you should ever dial a wrong number out of town. Just ask the person you reach for the name of his city. Then let the operator know right away. She'll make sure you're not charged for the call.

• • •



Filed your income tax return yet? If not and you have any question, the Internal Revenue Service advises that you can get the answer by phone. The IRS office serving Campbell is located in San Jose and the number is 286-8080. If you need some answeds — give them a call. They'll be glad to help.

WHAT'S IN A CEREAL

Some of you have written to ask whether ready-to-eat sugar coated cereals are as good for your youngsters as the unsweetened ones. Sugar coated cereals contain about as much protein, somewhat less iron and riboflavin than other kinds of cereals. They cost more per ounce than many of the unsweetened ones.

Breakfast cereals promoted as extra high in certain nutrients are also apt to be higher priced. Consequently you may not get any more for your money than when you buy some of the cheaper whole-grain and enriched kinds.

Your best buy in cereals is to choose the whole grain, enriched or restored kinds. Cereals you cook yourself are almost always less expensive than prepared ones. To make your food dollar go further, you may want to serve cooked cereals regularly and use ready-to-eat cereals for a change.

Elks Club fashion show

Members of the Los Gatos Elks Wives Club will present a fashion show on Saturday night, March 27, at 8:30 p.m. "Champagne of Fashions" is the theme for the event, which will be held at the new Elks Lodge at Newell Avenue and Winchester Blvd. in Los Gatos.

Joseph Whelan will be the commentator and refreshments of champagne and canapes will be served. Tickets may be purchased at the door. Models will include Mesdames Warren Cornell, Robert Ferini, Charles Harms, Jack Marden, David Reinoehl and Harry Richards. Dancing will follow the fashion show.

Architects frown on multi-story buildings for new college campus

Costs of multi-story structures as compared with one and two-story buildings for a college campus were presented to the West Valley College Board of Trustees last week.

Dr. Alexander Tarics, of the San Francisco firm of Reid and Tarics, district architects, said all investigations showed costs of high-rise buildings to be "consistently and considerably" higher. He urged the trustees, where land prices permit, to "build low and when it becomes necessary to expand, to expand extensively instead of intensively."

Tarics used for an example the relative cost of parking facilities at the Fruitvale-Allendale Ave. site in Saratoga which the board is now in the process of negotiation for purchase. "Even if this land were to cost you $22,000 an acre, that would be just 50 cents a square foot," he said. "You can grade it and surface it for another 50 cents a square foot. On the other hand the cost of a high-rise parking structure will cost six to eight dollars a square foot." Tarics added that the $22,000 figure was hypothetical, and the actual cost of the Saratoga site is expected to be much less than that.

"Where the land price is relatively cheap, it is extremely unwise to go up," Tarics said. "San Jose State, on the other hand, has an altogether different problem. That institution must figure on land costs of $115,000 to $140,000 an acre and, of course, must expand intensively."

The high relative costs also apply for multi-story academic buildings, Tarics said. In the first place, he said, about 150,000 of the projected 450,000 square feet for the proposed West Valley campus will be structures that cannot be multi-story, such as gymnasia and similar large meeting area structures. Of the remaining 300,000, the costs of structures, elevators, earthquake-proofing and other multi-story necessities would project the ultimate costs upwards as much as 50 percent for some of the major building groups.

PARTIAL PAY

The board approved payment of $112,628 to the architectural firm for services performed thus far. The college president, Dr. Wallace W. Hall, pointed out that this was the exact amount of an advance which the federal Housing and Home Finance Agency had informed him was forthcoming immediately for construction planning. This amount is the first payment of a $304,000 construction planning loan for which the college has been certified.

Before approving the payment, several trustees inquired if the plans undertaken so far had flexibility, and the architects assured them that the first campus "could be expanded 50 percent if necessary."

Board Chairman Bruce F. Allen then observed that "in the unlikely event that the bond issue (a $17.8 million measure to be voted on April 20 for construction of a first campus and start of acquisition of two more sites) does not pass, then our Saratoga campus really will be loaded with people."

"If the bonds pass, we'll have the money to acquire a southwest site now," he said. "If they don't pass, our chance to buy a southwest site will be gone forever because of rising land costs, and we'll have to live with two campuses--one at Saratoga and the other north of Bayshore Freeway. If the bonds pass, the people of Saratoga will have an asset; if they fail, they'll have a very crowded, unpalatable situation on their hands.

Allen reiterated that the Saratoga site will be purchased and "plans are going ahead for construction of the campus there."

invited for the yearly get-together with old friends and neighbors.

Official host of the 73rd Celebration will be Chamber of Commerce president, Ron Tharp, who will welcome all guests and extend an invitation to all Old Settlers to participate in their recognition day.

LeRoy Black, veteran Campbell street superintendent, will again be in charge of the Sunday parade line-up. Nearly all entries requests for the parade have already been received, with the deadline set for March 25.

By limiting the walking age group to those over 12 and the number of entries, a fast-moving parade is anticipated.

Wally Byron is making arrangements for an organ recital to be presented Friday evening.

Mrs. Aileen Williams will serve as official registrar for the Old Settlers' guests. On the reviewing stand will be Jack T. Dawson and Tony Van Laarhoven.

Traffic control will be handled by Campbell Police Chief John Morgan with Gene Arnold of West Valley College serving as chairman of transportation. Car service will be under the direction of Cal Bell and the West Valley College police major students.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

There is some interesting background to President Johnson's appearance last week before a joint session of Congress to request passage of a Voting Rights Law.

In 1963 Congressman Arch A. Moore (R-West Virginia) offered a motion in the Judiciary Committee of the House to approve a strong Civil Rights Bill which contained substantially the same protection of voting rights as the President proposed last week. Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-NY) apparently felt Moore's motion would carry so he promptly adjourned the Committee and refused to convene it again for twelve days. In the meantime, Attorney General Robert Kennedy worked frantically to achieve a compromise. Ironically one of the first positions compromised away by the Attorney General was the section which would have protected voting rights in much the manner as the pending bill. So, if Moore's motion had been voted upon that day in 1963 the present crisis in Selma might not be with us.

The staging of the President's address was unusual. Security provisions around the Capitol that night were the tightest I have seen in twelve years, with the First Family personally guarded by F. B. I. Director J. Edgar Hoover. For the second time in three months a joint session of Congress was held at night in order to bring the speech live to a maximum television audience. As they did for the January "State of the Union" message, teleprompters to the President's right and left furnished two additional camera angles from which he could read his speech. When the devices didn't work for the first ten minutes, the President continued to speak with complete composure while an aide crawled to the rostrum on hands and knees and repaired them at the Chief Executive's feet. For the first fime, the principal camera covering the President was on the House Floor instead of the Gallery. It was wheeled in the center door just after he entered and wheeled out just before he departed. Audience reaction was unusual with some of the most demonstrative gestures of approval coming from the Republican side while Southern Democrats sat on their hands.

There is little doubt that all the painstaking preparation for the President's appearance on television was in the national interest.

Though it was not necessary to convince the majority of a Congress which was already champing at the bit to legislate the shame of Selma out of existence, it did have an effect on the nation. By offering hope that the legislative process could replace violence, the staging and timing may have averted further killing in embattled Alabama.

The question of voting rights is now back on the track from which Bob Kennedy derailed it in 1963 with a compromise to expediency. Let us hope the problem stays where it belongs--out of the streets and in the Halls of Congress. Speaking as one Member of Congress, I now have the opportunity to do what I wanted to do in 1963. I shall support a strong bill to give every American citizen an equal right to vote.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE
SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

Q. My union representative wants me to file my social security application now but I plan to work for 2 more months. What's the hurry?

A. Your union representative knows that it takes a few weeks to process a claim for social security benefits. He is trying to insure that your checks will come to you as soon as possible after your retirement. This can be accomplished by filing ahead of time and furnishing the necessary proofs: W-2 Form for last year, proof of age, and your social security card.

Q. I will become 72 in June of this year. As I understand it, I may earn as much as I want to during the year without any charge against my social security checks. Am I right?

A. Not exactly. You will be 71 for the first 5 months of the year. According to the provisions of the social security law, any earnings over $1200 during the calendar year will be charged against your benefits for the months of January through May, unless you earn only $100 (or less) in any of these months. Starting with June, of course, your earnings will not affect your right to a full check, regardless of the amount of those earnings.

Q. I receive retirement pay of $250 a month from the Department of the Army. I also receive a monthly social security benefit. Does the $250 I receive from the Army affect the earnings limitation on my social security?

A. No. Only remuneration you receive from work as an employee or self-employed person or combination of the two counts in the $1200-$1700 limitation for social security purposes. Any retirement pay or income not received as an employee or self-employed person would not affect receipt of your social security benefits.

Q. Although I filed a social security claim in 1964, I continued working the entire year and earned $6050. Since I retired the first of this year, I now want to begin receiving my benefits. Will it be possible for me to have my benefits increased because of my high earnings last year?

A. Yes. You should see your social security office. If you worked as an employee, bring your W-2 form for 1964; if you were self-employed, bring in a copy of your income tax return as well as proof that you paid your self-employment tax.

THANKS READERS
Dear Editor:

On behalf of the Santa Clara County Heart Association, I'd like to thank your readers for their generous contributions to the 1965 Heart Fund.

Although the campaign did not quite reach its target, the dollars given by the citizens of this county will be of great aid in the efforts of the association--and those efforts are directed at one target--to save their lives.

Heart and blood vessel diseases still account for more than half of all deaths in the United States, but thanks to research projects supported by Heart Association grants ($143,000 in this county alone last year), the odds are improving every year. Statistical evidence shows that deaths from cardiovascular diseases have experienced a decline.

The Heart Association is also grateful to the Campbell Press and its editors for cooperation in keeping the public informed on the aims and achievements of the Heart Association and on the progress of the Heart Fund Drive.

The news media, the association, and the citizens of this county are all important factors in the drive to reduce, and in some cases eliminate, the effects of the nations No. 1 killer. The Heart Association publicly thanks you and your readers for their part in the great project.

Sincerely,
Joseph Fischer, M.D.
President

Santa Clara County United Fund trustees elect new officers

Santa Clara County United Fund trustees elected John F. Lawler, patent counsel of Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., president of the UF for 1965. Lawler and five other new officers were elected at the recent annual meeting of the board of trustees at the Ford Motor Co. plant in Milpitas.

Brian H. Fottrell, general commercial manager for Pacific Telephone & Telegraph, is the new county executive vice president. Fottrell last year was president of the Central Area UF Chapter, which serves Campbell and 10 neighboring communities.

Vice president for public relations and allocations respectively are Palmer M. Craig, manager division staff services for Philco Corp., and Roger M. Brennan, Building and Construction Trades Council executive secretary.

Treasurer of the county UF elected for his second term is Newton V. Turney, division vice president and division controller of United Technology Center. S. George Sanregret, Los Altos city administrator, was chosen secretary.

County United Fund by-laws were amended to establish the South County area as the sixth UF chapter. San Martin, Gilroy, Coyote and Morgan Hill held their first campaign last fall after joining the UF "family" in June.

Retiring President M. A. Hopkins, assistant director of Lockheed financial operations, looked back over UF campaigns since 1959, noting that every campaign has been successful. He expressed his pleasure at having had the opportunity to serve as president and presented challenges to incoming officers.

In looking ahead in 1965, Lawler expressed his belief the United Fund would pass the $2 million target, after missing it by only $35,000 in the 1964 appeal.
